Skyline LASIK vs Bargain LASIK Shops

When you choose LASIK or PRK, your investment should reflect the quality of your experience. At Skyline LASIK, we don't compromise on excellence by offering discounts. Our patients receive the same premier care every single day.

Not all LASIK or PRK is equal, and the saying 'you get what you pay for' holds true for vision correction surgery. Practices that offer discount LASIK or PRK often compromise on quality to keep costs low.

Remember, LASIK and PRK are surgical procedures. It makes sense to price shop glasses frames or look for the best deal on brand-name contact lenses. But is it wise to entrust your vision and the health of your eyes to the lowest bidder?

How Much Does Premium LASIK or PRK Cost?

At Skyline LASIK, we charge $2,350 per eye for LASIK, and PRK. This is in line with the national average price for LASIK<sup>1</sup>. Here's something to consider: if you're paying less than the average cost, the quality of what you're getting might also be below average.

<sup>1</sup>The average cost of standard LASIK in the U.S. is $2,632 per eye - <https://pmc.ncbi.nlm.nih.gov/articles/PMC7982707/>

Are You Still Renting Your Vision?

Paying for glasses and contacts is like "renting" your vision. The average person spends up to $10,000 on glasses and contacts over the course of a decade, yet their vision is actually no better.

LASIK and PRK are one-time investments that allow you to 'own' clear vision for life. Over time, the cost of visual freedom with these procedures is lower than the ongoing expenses of glasses and contacts.

Invest in a Lifetime of Better Vision

See the Bigger Picture with LASIK or PRK

Balancing everyday expenses is a part of life. But when you compare the one-time cost of LASIK or PRK to common recurring expenses, its value becomes clear.

Let's break it down:

Invest once in LASIK or PRK, and experience better vision every day, all day.

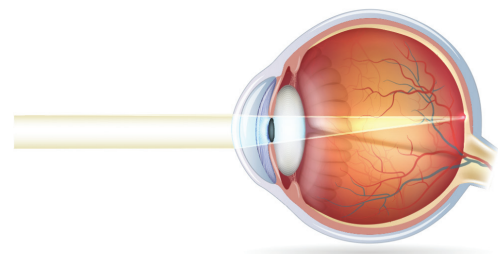

It's more than vision correction—it's a life upgrade.

Paying for LASIK or PRK

We're experts at helping our patients fit premium LASIK or PRK into their budgets. If you have an HSA or FSA account, you can use those tax-free funds for LASIK or PRK. We also offer convenient payment options including a discount for paying cash, and we can help you look into financing with CareCredit.

Some of our patients pay as little as $131/month for vision correction surgery. Over the course of 36 months, that's just $4.36 a day!
